

Project Presentation

We progressed along our timetable and presented the project on June 14, 2007! Several photos from the event are below.

The last quarter of the program, we refined our narrative to ensure that it captures the true essence of those who lived in Bodie. It was the Victorian Era in a town full of "testosterone, guns, gold and whiskey"!

There were lawyers and lawmen, ladies and ladies of the night in Bodie. Each had their own story and each of their stories was intertwined. Like the story of Lottie Johl, whom society's proper women would never let her sordid past be forgotten, no matter how loving a wife she proved to be to Eli, her husband, the local butcher.
